Claims 1-30 are presented for examination.

Applicants' response and declaration filed May 12, 2005; and the amendment filed June 27, 2005 have been received and entered.

Accordingly, the rejections made under 35 USC 102 and 103 as set forth in the previous Office action dated December 21, 2004 at pages 2-5 are hereby withdrawn so that a new rejection can be made.

Reissue Applications

Allowable Subject Matter

Claims 3-7, 10-16, 18-23 and 26-30 are allowable.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless -

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

Claims 1 and 8 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by Yerukhimov, "Treatment of Bladder Tumors with Gossypol and Ionol in Combination with Surgical Intervention", Voprosy Onkologii, (1966), Vol. 12(2), pp. 29-34, (BX of PTO-1449 dated December 2004).

Yerukhimov teaches the use of racemic gossypol to treat bladder cancer (see page 32 for the summarized in Table 4 and Table 5). Note the racemic gossypol contains both the (+) and (-) enantiomers, therefore, the (-) enantiomer was administered to produce the same anti-cancer effects. Clearly, the cited reference anticipates the applicants' instant invention, treat a cancer with (-)-gossypol; therefore, the instant invention is unpatentable.

Claims 1 and 8 are not allowed.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

This application currently names joint inventors. In considering patentability of the claims under 35 U.S.C. 103(a), the examiner presumes that the subject matter of the various claims was commonly owned at the time any inventions covered therein were made absent any evidence to the contrary. Applicant is advised of the obligation under 37 CFR 1.56 to point out the inventor and invention dates of each claim that was not commonly owned at the time a later invention was made in order for the examiner to consider the applicability of 35 U.S.C. 103(c) and potential 35 U.S.C. 102(e), (f) or (g) prior art under 35 U.S.C. 103(a).

Claims 2, 8, 9, 17, 24 and 25 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Yerukhimov, "Treatment of Bladder Tumors with Gossypol and Ionol in Combination with Surgical Intervention", Voprosy Onkologii, (1966), Vol. 12(2), pp. 29-34, (BX of PTO-1449 dated December 2004), in view of V. Band et al.,

Art Unit: 1614

“Cytocidal Effects of Gossypol and Its Optical Isomers on Reproductive Cancer Cell Lines”, Gynecologic Oncologists, (1986), 23(2), p. 261, (AH of PTO-1449) further in view of Band et al., “Antiproliferative Effect of Gossypol and Its Optical Isomers on Human Reproductive Cancer Cell Lines”, Gynecologic Oncology, (1989), 32, pps-273-277, (AG of PTO-1449).

Yerukhimov teaches the use of racemic gossypol to treat bladder cancer as discussed above supra.

V. Band et al. teach cell lines (in vitro) gossypol has cytocidal effect on ovarian, testicular and gestational tumor cells.

Based on the success of Yerukhimov and the teaching of V. Band et al., one of ordinary skill in the art would have been motivated to treat ovarian, testicular, and gestational types of cancer by administering gossypol as taught in the Yerukhimov reference. Thus the claimed invention is a prima facie obvious to make and use at the time it was made.

In addition given the combined teaching of Yerukhimov and V. Band et al. in view of Band et al, it would have been obvious to one of ordinary skill in the art to have used (-) gossypol since Band et al. (AG) teach that the (-) enantiomer is the primary antiproliferative agent in the racemic mixture delivered in the Yerukhimov and V. Band et al. references.

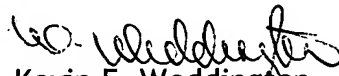

Claims 2, 8, 9, 17, 24 and 25 are not allowed.
